

Conference: Afghanistan, the U.S., and Russia: Then and Now Columbia University's Harriman Institute

Friday, October 28, 2016
102B Jerome Greene Hall (Law School, 435 West 116th Street)

9:30am: Welcoming Remarks:

Kimberly Marten (Director, Program on U.S.-Russia Relations, and Ann Whitney Olin Professor of Political Science, Barnard College)

Austin Long (Conference Organizer, and Associate Professor, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University)

9:45-11:45: Contemporary Afghanistan

Colin Jackson (Associate Professor of Strategy & Policy, Advanced Naval Strategy Program, U.S. Naval War College)

Dipali Mukhopadhyay (Assistant Professor, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University)

Arturo Munoz (Senior Political Scientist, RAND Corporation)

Rajan Menon (Anne and Bernard Spitzer Chair in Political Science, City College of New York)

Lunch Break

1:30-3:15: Panel 2: Afghanistan and the Cold War

David Edwards (James N. Lambert '39 Professor of Anthropology, Williams College)

Benjamin B. Fischer (former Chief Historian, U.S. Central Intelligence Agency)

Odd Arne Westad (S.T. Lee Professor of U.S.-Asia Relations, Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University)

3:15: Concluding Remarks