20th Anniversary of the Dayton Peace Accords: Bosnia’s Uncharted Future and Balkan Lessons for Global Application

Thursday, November 12, 2015 to Friday, November 13, 2015
Rennert Hall at the Kraft Center (606 West 115th Street)
Harriman Institute at Columbia University

PROGRAM

12 NOVEMBER 2015
3.00 PM
Film screening: Seeking Truth in the Balkans, introduction by Tanya L. Domi, followed by a panel discussion with Jennifer Trahan, Belinda Cooper, Richard Dicker and moderated by Dijana Jelača

6.00 PM
KEYNOTE ADDRESS by Kati Marton, award-winning journalist and human rights activist; opening remarks by H.E. Haris Hrle, Ambassador of Bosnia and Herzegovina; introduction and Q&A moderated by Alexander Cooley, director of Harriman Institute

13 NOVEMBER 2015
8.30 AM
Breakfast

9.00 AM - 9.15 AM
Opening remarks and welcome
Tanya L. Domi, Harriman Institute, Eldin Elezović, Congress of North American Bosniaks and Adisada Dudić, board member, Advisory Council for Bosnia and Herzegovina

Dayton with a Twist: Bosnian Youth Challenge the Status Quo, a short video produced by the Post-Conflict Research Center in Sarajevo

9.15 AM – 11.15 AM
Panel 1. The Socio-Political Consequences of Dayton for Bosnia and the Western Balkans
Moderator: Jasmin Mujanović, York University
Dario Ćepo, University of Zagreb
James Lyon, University of Graz
Marija Šajkaš, Novi Magazin and 4 Better Media
Jessie Hronesová, St Antony’s College, Oxford University

11.45 AM - 1.45 PM
Panel 2. Dayton Lessons for Conflict-Stricken States
Moderator: Anna De Lellio, NYU School of Global Affairs and New School
Ivana Cvetković Bajrović, National Endowment for Democracy
Matthew Hodes, Director of UN Alliance of Civilizations
Jennifer Trahan, NYU School of Global Affairs
Tanya L. Domi, Harriman Institute, Columbia University