

Markian Dobczansky is an Associate of the Harvard Ukrainian Research Institute (HURI) and an administrative associate at the Shevchenko Scientific Society in the U.S. A historian of the Soviet Union, Russian-Ukrainian relations, and urbanization, he is completing a book manuscript titled Between Moscow and Kyiv: The Politics of Culture in Soviet Kharkiv. The book traces the development of local identity in Kharkiv, the largest metropolis of the Ukrainian-Russian cultural borderland from 1917 to the 1990s. He received a Ph.D. in history from Stanford University and has held fellowships at the George Washington University, the University of Toronto, and Columbia University.