

Ukraine in Harvard's "Yard": Diaspora Activism and Library Initiatives, 1973-1980
Edward Kasinec

Edward Kasinec recalls the six years he spent as a bibliographer and librarian at Harvard College Library and its newly created Ukrainian Research Institute Reference Library. In his power-point presentation, he reviews some of the book and archival collections and book funds he acquired for Harvard from representatives of the diaspora, the remarkable "book" people he encountered, exhibitions and conferences he organized, and his attempts to recover the legacy of Ukrainian book studies scholarship.
