

Nancy Condee is senior faculty (Slavic; Film & Media) at the University of Pittsburgh. Her work has appeared in New Left Review, Washington Post, The Nation, as well as Iskusstvo kino, Seans, Znamia, Voprosy literatury, and Novaia gazeta. Her volume Imperial Trace: Recent Russian Cinema (Oxford) received top prizes from Society for Cinema & Media Studies and MLA. She is Director of Pitt's Center for Russian, East European, and Eurasian Studies (REEES), one of 12 such U.S. centers. Prior to REEES, she was inaugural Director of Pitt's Global Studies Center. Film juries include Kinotavr (Sochi), Listopad (Chair, Minsk), and Russian Film Week (London).