The Steps of InterdependAnce!

An intimate conversation with a multidisciplinary artist, Slavko Đurić, about the history, process, and transformation of InterdependAnce!, an edition of twelve gregarious, mutually dependent, and synaptic artists' books.

Slavko Đuric (b.1979, Yugoslavia) is a multidisciplinary artist based in NYC. He was trained in printmaking under the mentorship of Professor Zoran Marjanovic at the University of Art in Pristina, Serbia. His practice spans from drawing and photography, to artists' book and site-specific installations. His work can be found in collections of Center for Book Arts (NYC), Bibliotheca Alexandrina (Egypt), MICA, and Harvard University Library.
